1. BACKGROUND & INTRODUCTION

For more than 30 years, Somalia has experienced political instability and conflict, resulting in the erosion of social cohesion and the collapse of state and community structures. In addition, land degradation and erratic weather have left the country vulnerable to more frequent and larger magnitude droughts, devastating cyclones, and frequent flooding contributing to further loss of livelihoods, extreme poverty, and large-scale population displacement. Even as Somalia is witnessing a rebirth in development, reconstruction, and peacebuilding, recurrent climatic shocks (droughts and flooding) and protracted civil war have left the Somali people and society in critical need of assistance at all levels. The need for emergency support and sustainable social and infrastructure development has never been greater and is crucial to ensure the survival of Somalia and the prevention of future conflict.

Somalia Community Concern (SCC) is committed to innovation and excellence invariably results in a completed project for both contractor and client. SCC understands and promotes the idea of working as a partnership with our clients to ensure their goals are met. SCC services include a long list of clients in the civil construction, architectural and engineering, and general services markets.

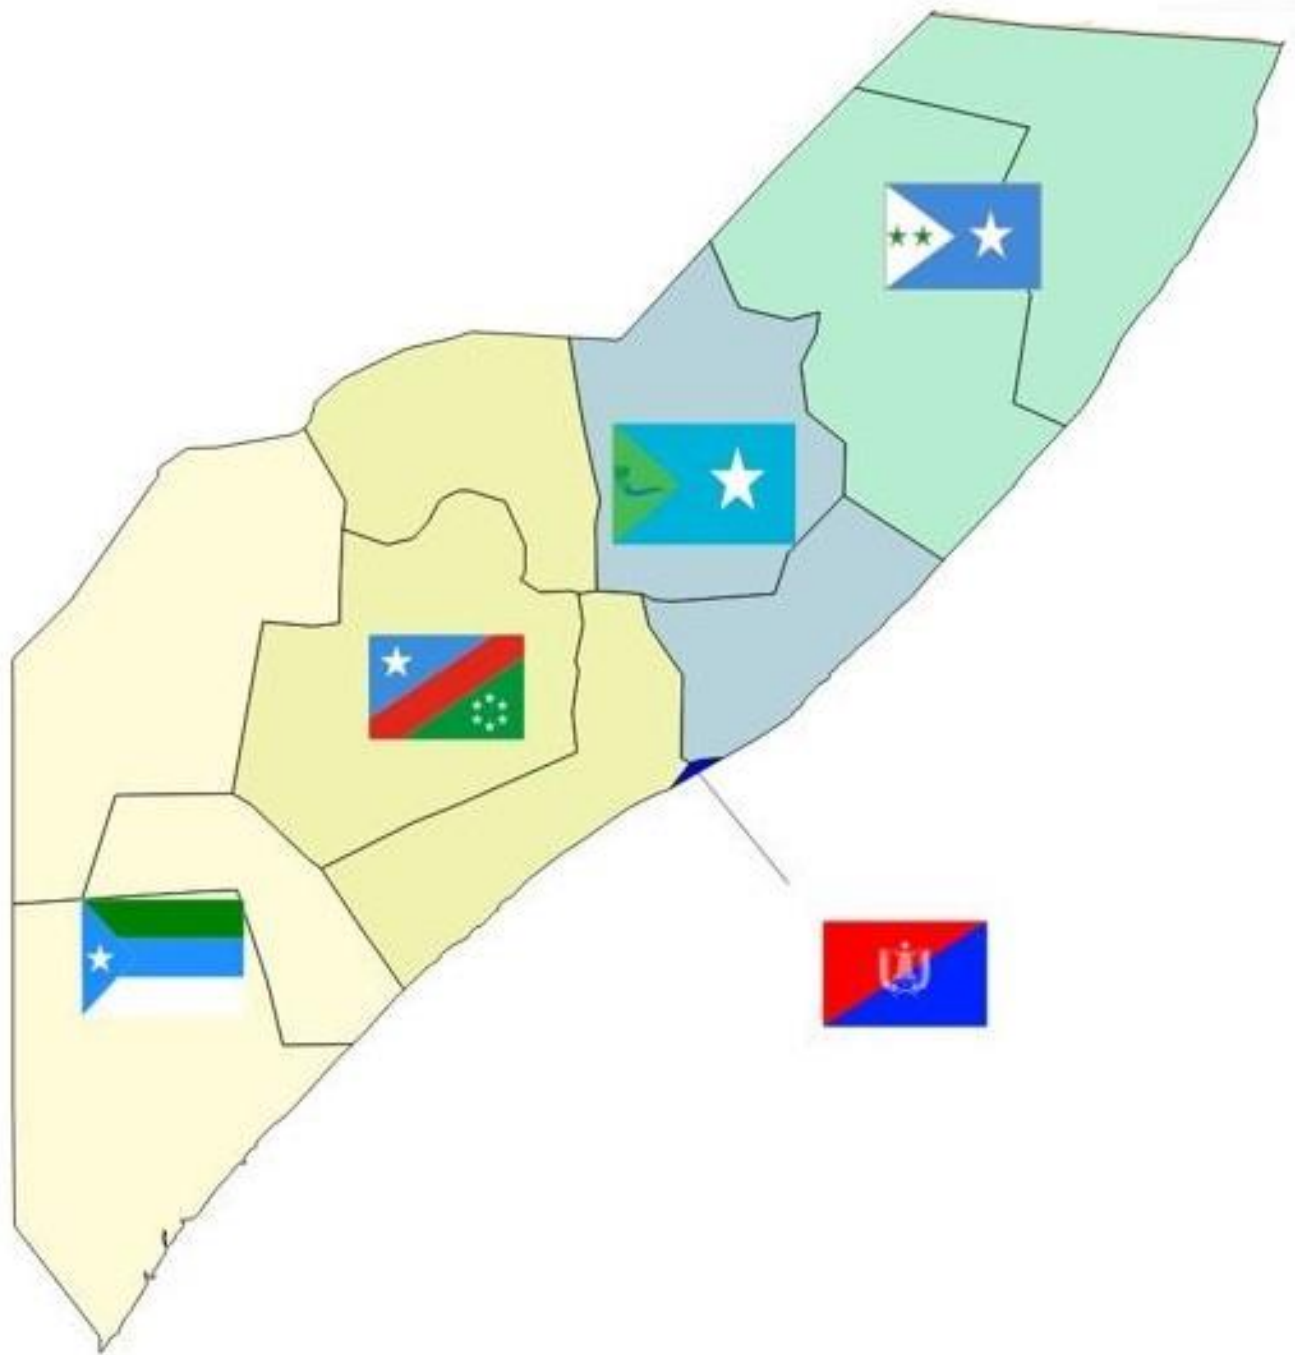

SCC is well established in the field of emergency response and developmental programs including humanitarian and general services. Since 2003, SCC has been at the forefront of humanitarian and development responses, establishing operations in difficult-to-access locations and reaching those most in need. We aim to lift poor and marginalized households out of the vicious cycle of dependence by addressing the underlying causes of vulnerability to environmental and socioeconomic shocks. Our programs are focused on serving the most vulnerable and marginalized people in Somalia and developing infrastructures in main towns and villages.

Since its inception, SCC has completed over 65 projects (hardware and software) that have improved the lives of underprivileged and vulnerable people by providing food assistance, shelter, WASH, Health, protection, education, peacebuilding, and capacity building. SCC also provides infrastructure works to private institutions and government entities. SCC works in partnership with organized community organizations, leaders, institutions, and government entities to ensure our projects are contributing to sustainable development and are client oriented. Our relationship with the beneficiary communities is central to our success. We design and implement projects with (and not just for) the local communities.

SCC teams are devoted to supporting Somali communities in building a better future by providing better responses and services adapted to specific needs. Our staff provides aid to populations affected by crisis using an approach that is both local and global, multidisciplinary, and adapted to each context. By ensuring the link between Rehabilitation and Development, SCC staff guarantee that interventions made in a situation of crisis are useful and sustainable because only long-term support – by remaining in the area post-emergency and involving communities – can end the poverty cycle and accompany populations on the road to development.

Our projects are implemented with support from various partners including Somali Federal Government (SFG) line ministries, SFG member states, UN agencies (UNICEF, UNOCHA/SHF, UN-HABITAT, IOM and UNFPA), and international organizations (HRF, ACTED, USAID, INTERSOS, NRC and Women international).

8. ORGANIZATIONAL ACHIEVEMENTS

8.1 Healthcare Program

Since 2002, 17 reproductive and maternity waiting homes for safe and free delivery have been established by SCC in collaboration with UNFPA and SHF in the IDP camps in Banadir Mogadishu, Hirshabelle, and Jubbaland State of Somalia. Since that time, more than 2850 pregnant IDP women have successfully delivered, and more than 35000 pregnant and lactating mothers have been seen and treated by medical professionals. The challenges faced by internally displaced persons include unemployment, poverty, hunger, inequalities, pollution, oppression, political repression, marginalization, inadequate social services, and lack of social integration.

8.2 Protection/Gender Based Violence (GBV)

In the center of the IDP camps in Mogadishu, Kismayu, and Jowhar, SCC developed the Safe Home Center for GBV Survivors in conjunction with UNFPA in 2015. In more than 150 rape instances, post-rape care, housing, and dignity kits were provided. SCC's GBV one-stop centers (OSC) and women and girl safe space centers (WGSPCs), accessed 18,121 persons (10120 women and 8001 girls) of GVB survivors and women and adolescent girls of GBV risk group have received psychosocial support, materials, and cash assistance to GBV survivors, counseling, safety planning, and risk reduction of GBV incidents to individuals at the IDP sites. The survivors who visited the centers were subjected to physical assault, denial of resources, and emotional abuse and they were assisted to receive medications, PSS, and material support. Most of the women were supported to recover from violence and access safety and opportunities. Out of these numbers, 4290 women and girls (including 140 disability women and girls) received PSS, 1290 (867 women and 423 girls) have received dignity kits including disability women. 34 women and 16 girls (including 3 girls younger than the age of 10) have received unconditional cash assistance each 45$ after giving post-rape treatment for the use of transportation on follow-ups they are the most venerable GBV survivors who received clinical management of rape.

8.3 WASH Programs

Over 15 emergency WASH Projects have been conducted by SCC in collaboration with UNICEF and SHF Somalia for IDPs and underprivileged hosting communities in the Lower Shabelle, Middle Shabele, and Banadir region, benefiting 256,893 (115,602 women and children) people. By constructing latrines, repairing wells, and instructing locals on the value of hand washing and clean drinking water, our workers are relentlessly working to increase community access to clean water, safe sanitation, and healthy hygiene.

The WASH programs primarily focus on places that have limited or no access to clean drinking water and are vulnerable to water-borne illnesses. SCC and the MoHFGS Environmental Unit have worked together to desludge the overflowing septic tanks in densely populated areas, including the Banadir hospital, in response to the outbreak of water-borne infections.

More Somali students now have access to clean water in their schools and communities thanks to SCC actions. With the implementation of several WASH interventions addressing the general population, educational programs, and healthcare facilities in a phased approach, we hope to eventually have an impact on the performance of the students in the class.

8.4 CCCM Project

In 124 locations and communities, SCC has been enhancing the living conditions of internally displaced people (IDPs), guaranteeing fair access to services, and providing aid to anybody in need in the Kaxda and Daynile District of Mogadishu.

Our Camp Coordination and Camp Management (CCCM) aims to ensure equitable access to assistance, protection, and services for persons living in displacement sites. It focuses on improving the living conditions of people during displacement while seeking and advocating for durable solutions to end camp life and organize the closure and phase-out of camps.

The main activities include ensuring that IDPs have uninterrupted access to basic services through continuous coordination with relevant stakeholders, and the monitoring of quality of services. Other activities focused on site development and expansion include leveling of ground and site preparation to mitigate the risk of flooding during the rainy season creating community spaces and maintenance of existing sites. Leadership structures, representing all segments of the population (men, women, youth, elderly, disabled, and other vulnerable people) in IDP sites are strengthened through training on CCCM concepts and best practices and better involvement in decision-making regarding site management and development.

8.4.1 FIRST LINE RESPONSE PROJECT (FLR)

Somalia continues to be one of the most complex and protracted humanitarian crises in the world. There are an estimated 4 million internally displaced people (IDPs) in Somalia, a diverse group of the population who have fled conflict, violence, and poverty - many of whom have been displaced multiple times. They are now facing an unprecedented sixth consecutive below-average rainfall season, which has led to the worst drought in 40 years.

This ongoing drought has displaced more than 1.3 million people - a five-fold increase in displacement since early 2022 - and left nearly 40 percent of the population in need of urgent food assistance. Many have already died due to hunger and disease. SCC is implementing First Line Response, CCCM Zonal Champion Support in Kahda district, Banadir. The target population for this project includes 54,200 individuals (9,033 households) who are drought affected and new arrivals in the Banadir, Banadir, and Kahda districts of Somalia. The objective of this project is to provide First Line Response, CCCM Zonal Champion Support in Kahda district, Banadir. The project activities include: Conducting rapid identification, verification, and registration of newly arrived households using a streamlined common beneficiary registration tool; Prioritizing initial registrations for households that have not yet received direct assistance, and conducting identification and verification in close coordination with site leaders and community representatives; Conducting beneficiary biometric registration and uploading data to a system called IOM's BRAVE for secure storage and sharing with the relevant agencies; Conducting daily outreach and awareness campaigns across all zones and catchment areas in the Kahda District for 5 days per week; Ensuring that complaints and feedback mechanisms are operational within zones 6-10 to enhance accountability to the site population and mitigate protection risks and vulnerability to affected populations, especially vulnerable groups; Daily tracking of new arrivals using a tool called the CCCM cluster NAT 2.0.; Assisting with joint distribution of WASH/SNFI (Water, Sanitation, Hygiene/Shelter, and Non-Food Items) in the Kahda district.

8.5. EDUCATION PROGRAMS

323 emergency IDP schools have been constructed by SCC in collaboration with UNICEF, SHF, and HRF/Canadian funds for local initiatives. These schools have benefited 143,567 schoolchildren. (19,605 girls, 23962 boys) for the last 10 years. Ancillary activities implemented in the emergency IDP schools include the construction/rehabilitation of temporary learning spaces and equipping them with WASH facilities, capacity building for community education committees (CECs) and teachers, school feeding programs, furnishing of classrooms, and supply of teaching and learning materials. This initiative addresses the social, economic, and cultural barriers to education, especially barriers to girls' education. These are highlighted in the mobilization campaigns and teacher training where gender-responsive teaching is incorporated into the training materials. In addition, gender-responsive facilities have been built into all construction and rehabilitation activities, ensuring privacy for girls through proper location and separate latrines for girls and boys. The school feeding program has given a new lease of life to hundreds of children who receive a warm, healthy meal each day – sometimes the only food they will get in a day. Since the start of the program, students' enrolment in schools has increased by 30%.

8.6. CONFLICT PREVENTION & PEACEBUILDING PROGRAMS

The high costs of human loss in conflict in Somalia spurred SCC to become engaged in post-conflict transformation and peacebuilding through joint, inter-clan resource management projects. SCC's approach to peacebuilding and conflict management is to focus on quick-impact interventions that increase security and economic activity. These quick-impact interventions differ from mainstream development initiatives in that they take place in conflict and post-conflict environments where certain traditional development considerations – such as needs assessments that include extensive consultations with beneficiaries – are counterproductive. This is due to the unstable and under-resourced environments in which the interventions take place.

SCC in partnership with Somali Peace Network (SPN) under a project supported by UNESCO recently implemented conflict prevention and peace-building training for local traditional elders, religious leaders, youths, women groups, and skilled people selected from four regions in south-central Somalia. SCC always identifies and consults with key community stakeholders – clan elders, civil society organizations such as women's and youth groups, and the commercial sector – who represent the interests of the beneficiaries in the community at large. Given the fragile situation in Somalia, tensions between migrants and host communities may be exacerbated by the erosion or change of traditional methods of conflict resolution and the loss or displacement of traditional mediators. Traditional-based forms of mediation have broken down dramatically, reducing the opportunity to prevent violence. SCC plays a key role in peace-building activities by bringing community elders, leaders, and peace activists together into round table consultations to discuss the strengthening of peace and stability and the integration of the local community. SCC also works to address the interlinked challenges of environmental degradation and climate change through nature-based solutions.

8.7. ENVIRONMENT & CLIMATE CHANGE

Environment and Climate change is a major threat to Somalia, exacerbating competition for land, pasture, and water resources. It causes displacement, social disruption, and recruitment of youth into armed actors and marginalization of minority groups which exploits inter-clan tensions, conflict, and instability among pastoral and rural communities. SCC has promoted activities to protect and restore the potential of production of ecologically fragile areas through ecosystem management; Increase forest cover through land reforestation (restoration of forestland by using reforestation and agroforestry techniques) and afforestation; Combat desertification and land degradation and promoting sustainable land management and degradation neutrality d. Environmental pollution control; Restore degraded forests & protect existing natural forests f. Sustainable Land Management (SLM)- a multi-sectorial, multi-stakeholder, and multi-donor financed program that brings communities, the government, donors, and the private sector together on a common platform. SCC will implement the following activities: Mapping and valuation of natural resources; Restoration (including beatification) program; Undertaking critical ecosystem participatory rehabilitation and maintenance; Undertaking baseline air quality; Reviewing national baseline on air quality; Community clean campaigns with a focus on youth-led initiatives; Control of noise nuisance; Development of national standards for noise level and a guideline for ensuring compliance at all levels; Mapping of potential noise emissions sources; Sensitization of industries, factories, and other institutions on control of radiation, toxic, and hazardous substances management; Restoration and protections of forests and Operationalization of environmental justice program.

8.8. LIVELIHOOD AND FOOD SECURITY

The Relief Food Program in Wadajir District, Mogadishu, Somalia, was implemented by Somali Community Concern (SCC) in collaboration with ICRC from 11th to 18th July 2012, leveraging their local expertise and community connections to enhance the effectiveness of the relief efforts.

SCC and ICRC engaged with local community leaders and representatives from the IDP communities in Wadajir District to ensure their active participation and ownership of the relief program. This approach fostered a sense of empowerment and inclusivity among the beneficiaries.

The food packages distributed were carefully customized to meet the specific dietary needs and cultural preferences of the IDP communities in Wadajir District. This attention to detail ensured that the assistance provided was relevant and valuable to the recipients.

SCC and ICRC established efficient distribution channels and points within Wadajir District to reach all 8500 vulnerable households promptly. This logistical planning helped streamline the distribution process and minimize delays.

sustainable practices and initiatives. This long-term perspective aimed to create lasting positive impacts on food security and community well-being.

The successful implementation of the Relief Food Program in Wadajir District served as a foundation for future collaborations between SCC, ICRC, and other stakeholders in addressing humanitarian needs in Somalia. The strong partnership established during this project laid the groundwork for continued support and assistance in the region. By combining their resources, expertise, and dedication to serving vulnerable populations, SCC and ICRC demonstrated the power of partnership in delivering impactful relief programs that address critical needs and contribute to the well-being of communities in crisis.

8.9. Construction and General Services

As one of the most significant governmental bodies in Somalia before the eruption of the Somali civil war. However, the destructive conflicts that followed led to the ruin of many government institutions, including the Ministry of Education and Higher Education.

In the aftermath of the devastation, efforts were made to rebuild the Government institutions as the government sought to regain strength and functionality. Consequently, the Ministry of Education of Somalia reached out to UNICEF for support in constructing a meeting hall in Mogadishu. UNICEF engaged in discussions with education partners on the ground, ultimately assigning Somali Community Concern (SCC) to undertake the construction of the Ministry of Education's meeting hall in Mogadishu.

Collaborating closely with officials from the Ministry of Education, SCC deliberated on the most effective approach to carry out the construction activities. After careful consideration, it was decided that the construction of the Ministry of Education's meeting hall would proceed. Three contractors renowned for their experience, quality of work, and competitive pricing were selected to execute the construction project. Subsequently, in a joint effort with UNICEF, SCC commenced the construction of the conference hall in Mogadishu on the 1st of March 2014, completing the project within a month, by the 31st of June 2014. The meeting hall, measuring 21 meters by 7 meters and featuring six windows and two doors, was designed to accommodate approximately 200 delegates for meetings.

Furthermore, SCC undertook the rehabilitation of six toilets within the Ministry of Education that had been ravaged during the prolonged conflicts that plagued Somalia. The construction of the meeting hall aimed to provide a conducive environment for educational gatherings across Somalia, facilitating the hosting of trainings, workshops, and seminars as needed, thus contributing to the enhancement of educational activities and initiatives in the region.

12.ACCOUNTABILITY

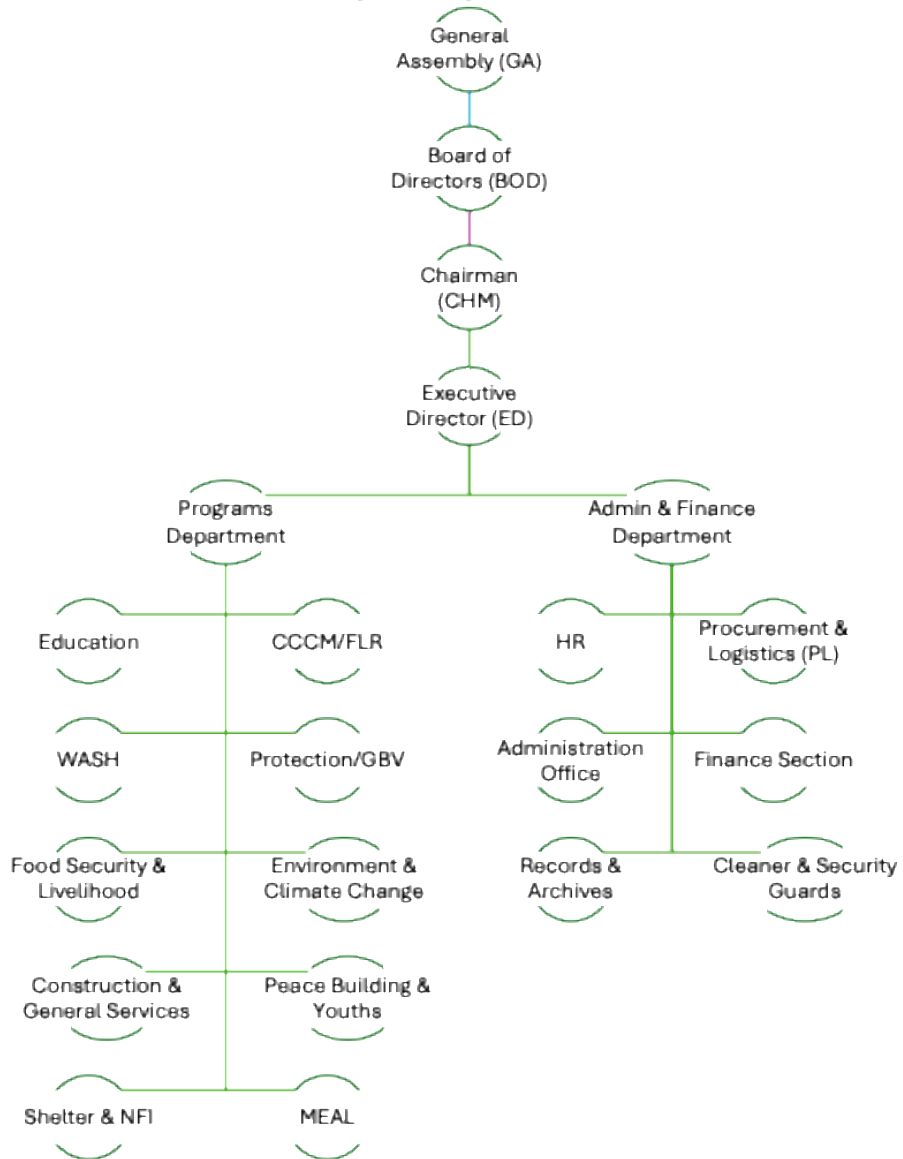

SCC strives to be accountable to all those we serve, those who support us, and the society at large. “Use power responsibly”: SCC recognizes that there is often an inherent power differential that tilts towards aid and service providers during interactions between SCC staff members and the people they are tasked to assist. When left unchecked, this fundamental imbalance fosters abuse of power and an environment conducive to undermining the rights and dignity of people that SCC commits to aid and protect. “Taking account of, giving account to, and being held to account”- AAP requires humanitarian actors and organizations to be transparent and to involve people affected by the crisis in decision-making processes by engaging with all diverse groups of the population especially those most vulnerable aimed at assisting them in the most appropriate, accountable and effective way.

13.GENDER MAINSTREAMING

At the community and household level, any humanitarian crisis has a significant impact on gender issues. Moreover, for any society to progress gender equality is a key factor and everyone has a role to play in ensuring that everyone benefits. Hence, the opportunity for a gender balance is always created in all SCC humanitarian interventions. Mainstreaming a gender perspective is the process of assessing the implications for women and men of any planned action, including legislation, policies, or programmes, in all areas and at all levels. It is a strategy for making women's as well as men's concerns and experiences an integral dimension of the design, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation of policies and programmes in all political, economic, and societal spheres so that women and men benefit equally, and inequality is not perpetuated. The goal is to achieve gender equality.
